

Men In Sheds: Bedford Code of Contact

We aim to create an inclusive environment, where every person and contribution is valued. We look for the positive and highlight it.

Any person breaching the Code of Conduct will be asked to leave the Shed and the Management Committee will decide as to whether the person will be permitted to return to the Shed.

We are collectively responsible for keeping each other safe.

No form of abuse, neglect, violence, anti-social behaviour, or infringement of the rights of others will be tolerated.

Members of the Shed will respect the confidentiality of all individuals, whether present or not, and refrain from mentioning specific information which may cause embarrassment of any member.

Members must accept that the Shed exists for the benefit of all its members, irrespective of religion, political views, nationality, disability, age or race.

Every member has a responsibility for Health and Safety and ensuring procedures are always adhered to by all members. Every member should see themselves as a safety officer, regardless of any formally appointed positions for that purpose.

Differences can sometimes get personal or be hard to resolve for other reasons. Members should be prepared to recognise when this is happening. They should be ready to find fair ways of cooling things down through mediation or team building sessions, for the benefit of everybody. If no resolution can be found, the Management Committee will decide how to resolve the issue in accordance with their voting procedures set out in the constitution.
